THE MEDICAL

What do I need to take with me?

- If you are required to wear glasses or contact lenses for driving - you need to take them to the medical examination along with a copy of your recent optical prescription
- A full list of all long-term medication
- A photographic form of ID – Driving license or passport
- Your current G.P.'s name & address
- A face covering

The medical will only be valid for three months, therefore please ensure that you send your D4 form to the DVLA without delay. You should also send your driving license. As soon as you receive your license back from the DVLA with the provisional entitlement, the required theory practice and tests can be booked.

BEFORE I START DRIVING...

You will need to pass the required LGV theory tests: Multiple Choice & Hazard Perception (Module 1a and 1b) You may also need to complete the Case Study (Module 2). Both modules 1 and 2 can be booked through Sigma.

DRIVER QUALIFICATION CARD ...

You will require a Driver Qualification Card (DQC). If you passed your car test after 1997, you would also have to pass the Case Study and Module 4 “show me – tell me”.

If you have passed your car test before 1997, you can either complete Modules 2 and Modules 4 or 35 hours of Drivers` CPC classroom training.

Once all the theory is completed, you will be ready for the practical aspect of the training.

DRIVING...

The vocational driving training and test - typically split over 4/5 days.
